THE OHIO BEGINS TO EBB.

THE WORST OVER AT CINCINNATI. THE TIDE RECEDES THREE-QUARTERS OF AN INCH IN SEVEN HOURS.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 14.-The Ohio River stopped Fising here to-day at noon, at which time it marked 71 feet and & inch, which is 4 feet, S% inches above the highest point reached last year. It was stationary for two full hours. At 2:30 p. m. it was discovered that the water had fallen a quarter of an inch ; ann it was then apparent that the tide had turned, and the crisis was over.

At 7 p. m. the river had receded three-fourths of an inch, and the good news of the actual beginning of a decline spread quickly, giving a profound feeling of relief wherever it reached. The first notice of a check came during the afternoon, and the posting of it on 'Change caused an outburst of appliause from the people in waiting for river bulletins.

DESTRUCTIVE WINDS-NARROW ESCAPES. It is impossible to give details of the lesses to this city by the wrecked and floating houses. The wind last night added to the number wrecked in the eastern part of the city, where the greatest loss has been felt, there being more frame houses in that section. Fortunately, so far, no case of loss of life has been known, though in several cases the families have been taken from their houses just before the water bore them away. As a rule the people cling to their houses until there is immediate and absolute danger.

The Panhandle station is completely surrounded. The water reaches half a square above Third-st. At Lock-st. the Grand Central Depot has from six to eight feet of water on the floor. At Mill-st, the water reaches into Fourth-st. Further west it crosses Fifth-st., and at the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton depot reaches half way up to Sixth-st. At Freeman-ave. it crosses Sixth-st. In the west end, the encroachments extend eastward as far as Freeman-st. Lincoln Park is a lake, except a little SUFFERING FROM THE COLD. The sudden cold last night made the suffering more intense, as many people in the flooded houses are not provided with fuel or else have no facilities for using it. The Chamber of Commerce has sent a barge of coal to Lawrenceburg and $500 cash, and has started two car-loads of provisions on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to Ironton.

In Newport, Ky., this morning the scene was most desolate. The high wind last night meved the waters so as to topple over many more buildings, and, loosened from their foundations, they have swung into the streets, causing in many cases to the relief boats great difficulty in passing around them. The need of help in Newport is increasing, as the stores of the imprisoned families grow less and less. Fortunately $1,000 was received there this morning from Secretary Lincoln and another $1,000 from the Chacinnati Chamber of Commerce. The water having grossed the Lexington pits, Covington, Ky., is now an island, and market wagons have stopped entering the city.

SUFFERING IN OTHER TOWNS.

SCORES OF PLACES SUBMERGED-A CHORUS OF AP-

BOSTON, Feb. 14.—The Mayor of Gallipolis says in a dispatch to this city: "This city, owing to its high location, has suffered comparatively little, and we do not ask for anything for ourselves, but for those people living on the river forty miles above and forty miles below this place. In this region every city, town and village but Gallipolis is inundated and inaccessible except from this point. The suffering is intense and immediate relief is necessary. The waters are receding very slowly, and it will be days before they will be down to their ordinary level. It is impossible to correctly estimate the loss of property in the district above mentloned, but it will be enormous. The territory contains about 75,000 inhabitants, living upon the banks of the Onio and Kanawha rivers; and Gallipolis is the only town not submerged. At least 2,000 houses have been swept away, or damaged to such an extent as to be uninhabitable after the flood has subsided. The farmers have lost largely of their horses and eattle, of nearly all their grain and feed, and all their fencing. The merchants and manufacturers have lost their stocks, and the mechanics are thrown out of employment. Coal mines and salt works are flooded and everything is deso-late indeed. It will be weeks and months before business can be resumed, and help will be needed long after the waters have subsided." CINCINNATI, Feb. 14 .- Dispatches to The Times-

Ster gives the following advices from other towns: MAYSVILLE, Ky .- The wind caused much damage here and at Aberdeen, O., by wrecking houses. The loss by the flood in this locality cannot be less than $100,000. It is snowing and freezing now. IRONTON, O .- This city is two-thirds under water. The destruction is beyond all estimate. More than half the people are homeless and out of food.

GREENUP, Ky .- The town is completely submerged. There is great suffering among the poor. Provisions are especially needed. Contributions sent to S. Powers or J. P. Pemberton, Grayson, Ky.

WHAT THE RELIEF-BOAT FINDS.

The Commercial Gazette's relief steamer, Kaje Waters, returned this morning from Ripley, Mossrs, Bishop and Collins, who went with it, say that the hills on the opposite sides of the river now form its banks. The people asked first fornews, next for ropes with which to anchor their houses, and instly for cooked provisions. None want clothing. The houses are everywhere swept away or floating on their corners. Rural and Augusta, Ky., are wrecks. The water is running behind Augusta, making an island of it. Dover, Ky., is in twelve feet water in the shallowest part. New-Palestine, Ohio, is nearly ruined. New-Richmond is still worse off. In Point Pleasant, General Grant's birth place, only two Pleasant, General Grant's birth place, only two houses are out of the water. Moscow is in a bad condition, many houses having disappeared. Neville is a wreck, and Shiloh is worse than Neville. Haif of Higginsport is in the water. Levanna is badly submerged. Ripely is in a terrible condition. One side of a brick house fell in yesterday and others are weakening. The people say the farmers from the country are helping them, whenover the roads and the floods permit access. The misery, destruction and distress cannot be overdrawn.

THE SITUATION GROWING WORSE DOWN STREAM. LOUISVILLE, Feb. 14 .- The suffering is great at Jeffersonville. The people are crowded together in the churches and school-houses almost to suffocation. The relief measures in operation are inadequate. The waves nd operation are inacequate. The waves did much damage to property last night. One foot more of water will flood the penitentiary, and there are 600 convicts to be cared for. The 125 families of time-burners at Utica, twelve miles neve here, are still huddled together in one church, and are sadly in need of relief.

The town of Clarksville, Ind., is almost washed away. The Kentucky River at Frankfort is reported to be rising again on account of vesterdar's away. The Kentucky River at Frankfort is re-ported to be rising again on account of yesterday's heavy rains.

IMPROMPTU DYKES AROUND GAS WORKS. LOUISVILLE, Feb. 14 .- The river continues to rise about an inch per hour. At 6 p. m. it had reached forty-six feet by the canal marks. The weather is very cold. The wind is blowing and inundated ises are being knocked down by the waves. The southeastern part of the city is flooded from water from Bear Grass Creek, but not badly. Men have been employed all day in building a cement wall around the tanks and purifiers of the gas works, and not much fear of the works shutting down is entertained. About 5,000 people are without homes here, but the local relief committees have matters well in hand and there is not much sufferng. The transfer across the river is continued and il railroads are still running trains, except the St.

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 14.—The steamer Fowler reports water on Front-st, at Paducah, and all the landings on the Kentucky side are under water. The people have gone to the hills. Jopps, a small town on the Illinois side, is inundated, the water covering the tops of the houses. The town is completely deserted. At Metropolis, Ind., the water is over the first floors in the buildings on Front-st., and all business has been removed to the back streets.

At Mound City, Ind., everything is seeme so far, and business is being carried on as usual.

houses. Hundreds of cellars were filled with water A woman and three little girls were caught by the flood. If a man had not gone to their assistance with a wagon they must have been drowned. Other women and chi dren were carried on men's backs to places of safety. The water is higher than it has been for many years and is rushing through this city at a tremendous rate, threatening to undermine bridges and the foundations of houses upon its banks.

THE SUSQUEHANNA RISES AGAIN.

VILKESBARRE INUNDATED-MAILS AND PASSENGERS MAKE A DETOUR.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. WILKESBARKE, Feb. 14 .- The Susquehanus River rose rapidly to-day, and this evening was nineteen feet above low-water mark, a gain of twelve feet in the past twenty-four hours. It is still rising at the rate of three inches per hour. Communication with Kingston is again interrupted, the water running over the flats fully as deep as during the ice flood last Thursday. Mails from the West for this city will come by way of Pittston during the cut-off, as will also all persons from the west side having business in this city. The river is running full of ice, drift wood and ruins of ont-buildings. Numerous bridges are reported carried away from smaller streams above, but no danger is feared for the large bridges along the main stream.

A STEAMER HIT BY A HOUSE.

THE PERILS OF NAVIGATION-HARD WORK TO FIND A LANDING.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 14.—The Evansville and Cairo packets are still running regularly and doing great good in resening the people and their stock and personal property. The hoats find great difficulty in landing, and in many towns the citizens are opposed to any attempts to do so. The Paris Brown, in coming up this morning, was run into by a large floating house, but was not much damaged.

THE PLAN OF RELIEF WORK.

PITTSBURG, CINCINNATI AND LOUISVILLE THE CEN-

TRES OF DISTRIBUTION. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.-Secretary Lincoln estimates that the purchases of supplies by the Mayors of various towns, authorized by him yesterday. will amount to about $50,000. General Saxton started in a boat from Louisville to-day, with supplies, operating directly below Louisville. Captain Cushing leaded a boat at Pittsburg to give relief as far south as Ironton, at an estimated cost of $15,000. General Saxton's expedition cost about the same, leaving $120,000 of the amount appropriated to be disbursed by General Beckwith, who has charge at Cincinnati. The Secretary has directed General Beckwith to hire and load directed General Beckwith to hire and load boats there with proper food, clothing and other necessaries for the destitute as far tast and west from that point as possible. The four officers ordered from Columbus Barracks to Cincinnati will accompany the boats. The Secretary has requested General Beckwith to send him an estimate of what he will be able to accomplish with the $120,000 remaining, and has suggested his conferring with Richard Smith of Cincinnati as to the best course to pursue. A fifth boat, to run toward Carro, will be ordered from Evansville as soon as possible. Secretary Lincoln expects also to have two additional boats sent from different points along the Othe, as soon as he can arrange for them. SUBSCRIPTIONS AND ENTERPRISE ELSEWHERE.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 14 .- Relief subscriptions now mount to $10,000. President Garfield's widow

HARTFORD, Feb. 14 .- A meeting here to-day to raise money to relieve sufferers by the Western floods voted that $10,000 should be secured. Al-floods voted that $10,000 should be secured. Already $1,500 has been subscribed. The Etna and Travelers' life insurance companies each gave $500. A committee will canvass the town.

Bustron, Feb. 14.—From here $1,000 has been sent to Pomeroy and $1,000 to Portsmouth, Ohio.

Pittsburg, Feb. 14.—The Relief Committee appropriated $3,000 in each to-cay to stock a boat, which left here to-night for Parkersburg, under the charge of the Rev. E. R. Douehoo and representatives of the daily press of this city. The amount expended in provisions is $2,000, and $500 in each for mecessious cases, and the balance for bedding, shoes, etc. The townsmen are responding generously.

CALLING A CHURCH COUNCIL.

VOTING TO DISMISS THE REV. DR. NEWMAN. DR. NEWMAN'S PARTY LOCKED OUT OF THE CHURCH

-THE MEETING HELD IN A HALL. A Fifth Avenue stage stood in front of the Madison Avenue Congregational Church last night, about half past seven o'clock. The building was not lighted, although "special notices" in the papers yesterday, signed by five deacons, had annonneed that a special meeting was to be held. In a few minutes three policemen came up the avenue and stopped in front of the church. A crowd began to collect. The cars let off a few passengers at the corner who joined the crowd. Others left the care a block or two away and walked unconcernedly toward the building, as if avoiding the appearance of going to a meeting held with closed doors. That the doors were closed was proved by Peter Dewitt, a member of the Ranney faction, who pulled open the storm door at the main entrance, and tried the heavy door. It was locked. Mr. Dewitt went to the vestry door and found that locked also, and the door leading to the church parlors was as securely fastened. Mr. Dewitt informed the reporters that not only only had the Newman faction locked the doors but in order to prevent the janitor from giting up the keys, all the locks had been changed and the janitor was told to call for the keys this morning.

At a quarter to eight a carriage rolled up to the church from Forty-sixth-st. On the box was a pair of crutches. The hum of conversation was hushed as the carriage door was opened and the leader of the assembled party was assisted to the sidewalk. Leaning on the arm of his faithful representative in the Board of Trustees, Dr. Ranney took in the situation at a glance. The "No" sent to the Board of Descons by the Board of Trustees meant "No." Mr. Dewitt informed the leader of his fruitless search for an open door. Many ladies stood shivering in the coid, and although it lacked ten minutes of the hour appointed for the meeting, Dr. Ranney, with uncovered head, stood on the stone steps leading to the church and said calmly:

The meeting will come to order. LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It being impossible for us to gain admittance to the church, I deciate the meeting adjourned to the Harvard Rooms in Sixth-ave, near Forty-second-st. The ladies and others who wish to ride will be carried in the stages. Many ladies stood shivering open door.

Quietly the crowd dispersed, Dr. Ranney was helped in the carriage, and the ladies and older gentlemen were carried in stages. One policeman and two church members remained at the church to inform late-comers of the new place of meeting.

UNANIMITY AT THE HARVARD ROOMS. With that grin determination which characterizes his surgical operations, Dr. Ranney began to climb to the Harvard Rooms. Two friends carried him up the second flight, and as he reached the landing many hands were extended, welcoming him back to his admirers after his enforced absence, caused by a broken ankle. He took his seat on the platform by the side of F. E. Barnes. In the room were over a hundred persons, including two policemen sent, as they said, "to prevent any row." But their presence was not needed. A singular spirit of unanimity prevailed. In the votes by acclamation which followed, not a dissenting voice was heard. Among those present were Deacons Cummings, Meigs, Palmer and Crooker, and Trustee Hopkins.

After prayer by A. C. Arnold, Dr., Ranney, who remained seated, said : BROTHERS AND SISTERS.—As long as my indisposition, presiding, will you please nominate a chairman?

chairman in Mr. Hopkins—I nominate II. M. Cummings.
Mr. Cummings, in taking the chair, said:
I thank you for the honor of allowing me to preside My only regret is, that after a membership of nearly twelve years we are not allowed to enter our dear charach hards.

F. E. Burnes made a report of the last meeting held on January 31. He simply said that there were great numbers present who were not, members of the church and that Dr. Rauney, after vainly trying to maintain order, dissolved the meeting. This report was adopted. F. E. Barnes was elected Clerk of the Board of Deacons by acclamation and Professor Charles B. Brush, was chosen superintendent of the Sunday-school. Deagon Z. S. Crooker then offered the following resolutions : resolutions:

Resolved, That the action of the trustees of our society in refusing to allow the members of the Madison Avenue Congregational Church to hold their meeting in the vestry of our church in direct opposition to the universal custom and usage of our denomination, deserves our earnest conducting the control of the control of Trustee Hopkins moved that the resolution offered by Dr. Ranney, in regard to discontinuing the services of Dr. Newman, which was laid on the table at the meeting of January 16, be taken from the table. The motion was passed and Deacon Crooker offered, as a substitute for the resolution, the foled, That the best interests of the Madison Aven-

Newman's ministerial services thereof after March 31; and that we do hereby discontinue his services a ssupply pastor after that date. [Applause]. Dr. Ranney moved that the vote on the resolution be taken by ballot and that the name and address of each voter be recorded. Mossrs. Josselyn. Palmer, Arnold and Thompson were appointed inspectors of the election and the voting began. The ballots consisted of a narrow strip of white paper, bearing the single word "Yes." Deacon Cummings's statement that any one who so desired could vote 'No" was received with applause, as was also the explanation of Mr. Hopkins that "a negative vote is a vote against the old church and its friends." The vote was announced as follows: "There are 111 votes cast, of which 110 are for the resolution, and one, a defective vote, was cast against it." [Long continued applause.]

The five deacons were appointed to inform Dr. Newman of the action of the meeting regarding his dismissal from the pastorate. Dr. Ranney then offered a resolution calling for a council, which offered a resolution calling for a council, which stated that, differences having arisen between the acting paster and the church members, and the orderly way for the settlement of such difficulties in the Congregational denomination being by a council made up of pasters and delegates of Congregational churches. "We, the undersigned, members of the Madison Avenue Congregational Churc., hereby express our desire to unite in the calling of such a council at an early day, for advise as to our right and duties in the premises."

The resolution was adopted and on the motion of Dr. Ranney it was decided that a committee of five be appointed to draw up letters-missive for calling the council, and to make arrangements for it. Dr. Ranney was appointed chairman of the committee, and at his suggestion Z. S. Crooker, A. C. Arnold and C. B. Meigs were instructed to draw up a presentment to be submitted to the council. While these two committees were at work Dr. Eanney made a long speech, sitting in his chair, referring to the Newmitted to the council. While these two committees were at work br. Ranney made a long speech, sitting in his chair, referring to the Newman faction as a "rabbe," and soying that when the church members had gone to church for months, wanting to hear the word of God preached, they had been given only husks. He had no enmity toward br. Newman, he said; he only pitied br. Newman from the bottom of his heart. Speeches were made by Meesrs, Cummings, Hopkins, Barnes, De with and Arnold. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Hopkins at Dr. Ra ney's suggestion. "for the noble manner in which he has sastained our interests in the Board of Trustees." The colamittee of five on the letter missive recommended. mittee of five on the letter missive recommended that the following call be sent to different churches

At Dr. Ranney's suggestion it was decided to give as "old fashioned," church sociable before the summer vacation. The meeting was closed with prayer mer vacation. The meeting was closed with prayer by Dr. Ranney and by the singing of the Doxology DEACON FOSTER MARSHALS THE NEWMAN FORCES.

While Dr. Ranney was marshalling his adherents, previous to the meeting in the evening. Deacon James Peers Foster, issued from his law office a call for the presence of reporters "at J. H. Seymour's house, No. 144 West-fifty-third-st., at about 10 to house, No. 144 West-fifty-third-st., at about 10 to 11 p. m., this evening, where a private meeting will be in session." In the early evening Mr. Yoster told a Tribune reporter that he intended "to answer the action of the meeting in the Harvard Rooms. Seven trustees, about ten church members and the Rev. Dr. Newman, therefore, assembled in Mr. Seymonr's parlors about the time of the opening of the meeting of the church party. Every tew minutes a seout would fling the door open and announce "Ranney's made another motion." He would be given a draught of water by the host and then sent back to the secue of Dr. Ranney's harmony. In the early part of the meeting. Dr. Newman crossed his legs and meditated, taking no part in the struggle for news, which seemed to characterize the others. "Do you care, Mr. Foster, to make any statement in regard to the meeting to-night?" asked a Tribune reporter, later.

in regard to the meeting to-night F asked a Tails-UNE reporter, later.

Mr. Foster—Oh. yes. We dealer to say that only 10 or 16 of the 110 persons who voted at Ranney's meeting to-night were legally entitled to do so. We had officers of the church present at the meeting who have been connected with the corporation for the last nine years, and they were positive that they saw only about 15 members.

Dr. Finen (one of the officers referred to)—You'd better say 25, may be, Mr. Foster.

Mr. Foster—Oh. no; that would be overshooting the mark. There could have been no such number.

Dr. Fineh—But we want to give facts, you know.

Mr. Fester (with an air of resignation)—All right; then there were only 15 communicants and not over 25 members.

Mr. Poster then said that of the forty-five persons who were supposed to have called the kanney meeting one was dead, four were not members of the church and twenty-nine did not hold pews or sittings.

Mr. Seymour—I should like to say here that the church receives annually only $600 from these forty-five members.

Trustee Knapp—Also, the large majority of the congregation never received any notice of the Ranney meeting, and in consequence it is fliegal.

Mr. Foster—Clerk Grills was elected on January 31, without an opponent, and therefore his election will stand; and the meeting to-dight can't act on the question of the pastorate, for that is a question for the society.

Then there was a melancholy lull in "the meeting," and Mr. Foster was asked the object of the assembly. "To answer the Ranney party," he answered.
"And do you consider that you have done so?"

asked the reporter.
"Oh yes!" Mr. Foster replied, "entirely to our "And this meetting—"

THE UNION LEAGUE CLUB'S MEETING.

unanimentaly voted down. A prominent member of the club said hast night: "The amendments were absurd and ridiculous, and no one can discover the motives of the proposers except to create a small excitement. We have a lerge enough membership stready, and should lose rather than gum by any addition to it. A large number of names are down for their turn for election and they of course would like to see the roll increased. Probably it is to their influence that the amendments owe their origin." THE PAINTINGS.

It is usual to find that the portraits constitute the chieeature of interest at the monthly exhibitions of the inion League Club, and the collection of some eighty ictures shown last evening proved no exception. W. M. Chase was represented by a portrait of Mr. A. S. Merrill, in which the artist emphasized the more salient points presented by his sitter's austore countenance with no attempt at any flattering softness of touch. Mr. Beneni Itwin contributed a portrait of Mr. Habert Herkomer, and Mr. Percival de Luce a strongly modelled but over-florid head of the Rev. Robert Collyer. To these must be added a portrait of Mr. Alexander Mitchell by Mr. A. A. Anderson, and portraits by Messrs Frank Fowler, Coffin, and Douglas Volk. In landscapes Mr. R. C. Minor contributed an ambithrough the Exchanges of this city. I therefore respectfully request that you will appoint a representative of your Exchange to meet me at the Mayor's office this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock for the purpose of consultation respecting this matter.

He has found something in an uninviting spot, marely ground with weeds and sedges, and he has palared the scene honestly as he saw it. Turning from the landscapes a most charming piece of deep color was to be encountered in Mr. A. P. Ryder's little study. No one world care to analyze it too closely, but Mr. Ryder as a colorist has certainly the power of imparting as sincere pleasure as can be given by the color beneath the lustrous glaze of the choicest antique porceian from the Flowery Kingdom.

There is little need to compiain of sameness in the methods of execution of our artists. Here was Mr. Ryder's positical expression on the one hand and Mr. Irving's clever illustration of detail painting on the other. This was a precisely painted study of one figurea reflection of the style of work which attained its higaest perfection with Jan Steen and Terburg, in a past age, and, under certan obvous distinctions, with Bargue and Meissonner In our own. WEDDINGS YESTERDAY.

Miss Martina Frelinghuysen Dayton, youngest daughter of the late Dr. Alfred B. Dayton, and a cousin of William L. Dayton, Minister to Denmark, was married to Henry P. Longstreet, only son of Aaron Longstreet, and a representative of one of the oldest families of New-Jersey, at the house of Rensselaer W. Dayton, Matawan, N. J., at 3:30 p. m. yesterday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert J. Kent, paster of the Fresoyterian Church, of Matawan. The best man was Holmes Longstreet, of New-York. The ushers were Alfred B. Dayton, Edward E. Dayton and James B. Day-ton, brothers of the bride, and B. E. Griggs. The bride was dressed in white oftenan silk, trimmed with striped watered silk, brocaded front, cut square at the neck and filled in with point duchess lace. She wore a corsage bouquet and carried a bunch of white roses and illies-of-the-valley. The veil was of tulle and was fastend to the head with a sprig of lilles-of-thevalley and maiden-hair feen. Her ornaments were diamonds, the gift of the groom. The house was handsomely trimmed, the window recesses were filled in with potted plants, and cut flowers were abundant.

The marriage of G. B. Sadler and Miss Florence Coples-The marriage of G. B. Sadier and Alies Florence Copies-ten took piace in the afternoon at the bonse of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Copleston, No. 141 West Fifty-sixth-st. in the presence of the religious of the two famines. The bride was given away by Dr. Acheson. She was dressed in a travelling costume of golden-stown ombossed pluse with mantic and bothast to correspond, and diamons ornaments. The Rev. Dr. Gallaudet, or St. Ann's Church, portorned the ceremony; immediately after which the bride and groom stared on a Southern tour. The presents were handsome.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY.

The third Ladies' Assembly ball took place last evening at Deimonico's, under the usual management and arrangements. About 350 people were present. The cusic-balcopies were draped with smilax, the chandeller trimmed with key, and the corners of the ball-room and the halls set with plants. Bernstein's and bleger's oreneatras furnished the music. During the Evening two court quadrilles were danced, sixteen persons taking part in each. Mrs. Pierre Lorillard and energe of the first, and Mrs. Waller Smith of the second. The german was danced after supper, and was led by Lispenard Stewart. The favors were body-mota, which were set in a THE LACKAWANNA OUTDOES ITSELF.

SOCIAL LIFE AT THE CAPITAL.

A STATE DINNER TO SUPREME COURT JUSTICES. WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 .- The State dinner given by the President to the Justices of the Supreme Court, this evening, was an elaborate entertainment The East room and corridors were decorated with tropical plants, and with these were mingled bright colored foliage, hyacinths and scarlet tulips. The floral designs on the table were new and be antiful, and the effect un surpassed by any previous decoration this season. The table was extended to give fifty covers. In the centre was an open temple, of red and white azaleas, roses, carmations, smilex and acacia blossoms. It was supported by Greek columns and she dome was wholly of red and white azaleas, massed in separate colors. Beneath this was an open book with the words " Law " and " Constitution" in gilt letters. On either side of the templ were floral scales, the lever of azaleas, and the trays of carnations and heliotrope. At the ends of the table were circular baskets of roses, and bending over these were sunshades of illies of the valley and fine ferns, giving a pretty and graceful effect. Bouquets of roses were placed at the plates of the ladies, and a single bud formed boutonniers for the gentlemen. Wax lights in giit candelabra completed the decorations. The windows of the State dining-room were filled with white azaleas, and palms, drooping over them, gave the exquisite blending of dark green and snow-white. Altogether, the State dining-room never presented a handsomer appearance.

The guests were received by the President and Mrs. McElroy, in the East room. At 8 o'clock the President led the way to the dining-room, escorting Mrs. Waite, followed by the Chief Justice and Mrs. McElroy. BALTIMORE, Feb. 14.-To-day's developments in the oyster war in the Chesapease are of an unusually startling and sensational character. Fishing Bay, where the choicest oysters are found, is at present the scene of the nostlities. Judging from the telegraph dis patches received to-night, a bloody conflict is likely between the oyster police fleet and the piratical crews within the next twenty-four hours. Thus far the author-ities have made a wrotched failure in their effort to preent the filegal dredging of oysters, and the outlaws, emboldened by their success and thoroughly armed, have openly defied the police fleet. The report from the Lella n Pishing Bay of yesterday's encounter with the pirates is merly a civil magistrate, who is supported by his fou sons, all noted desperadoes, and who has beside a following of some two hundred outlawed dredgers. Captain Mitchell of the steamer Lelia had captured the Mand Mulien, commanded by Sylvester Cannon, and had taken her into port. The case was to be tried before Magistrate Robinson in the Leda; but before it was heard, Chief Cannon appeared and being familiar with the law succeeded through a technicality in having the case against his son dismissed. The pirate chief is a man of wire build, small glittering eyes and nervous temperament. He was somewhat picturesquely costumed and his belt bristled with revolvers and bowie knives. As he sailed away in triumph, his son Sylvester appeared on the shores, also heavily armed, and began firing at the crew of the Lelia. He was pursued and began firing at the crew of the Lelia. He was pursued but escaped. Subsequently he appeared at Justice Robinson's bouse, and it has absence of the male members of the household trrified the women by flourishing a revolver and searching the house, wearing to kill Robinson on sight. Capitaln Insley, of the steamer Julia Hamilton, and a crew of ten men endeavores to a arrest him but falled, the pirates having escaped to a swamp whence they exchanged shots with their pursuers until past midnight.

Before his departure, the pirate chieftain said in conversation: "If I am a pirate, it is because I am compelled to be one or starve. The authorities failed to protect the legitimate interests of dredgers. To the Cowardice of Capitain Insley is to be attributed the failure to protect the interests of dredgers. I aided him in a night attack and was left in the lurch and my men compelled to bear the brunt of the battle. We will now fight it out to the bitter end."

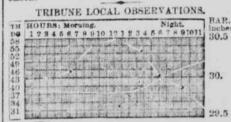

Hostilities will be renewed to-morrow, and further revelations of a sangulmary nature are expected.

RECKLESS RANDLING OF DYNAMITE.

SENDENG FORTY POUNDS AS BAGGAGE ON A TRAIN -EXCETEMENT AT OLEAS.

BUFFALO, Feb. 14 .- W. H. Hunt, of the Pennsylvania oil regions, will be tried Saturday, before a United States Commissioner, on the charge of earrying explosives on a passenger train. A few days ago a satchel was checked from Bradford to Olean, and at the baggage rosm of the latter place it burst open. A curious powder ran out, which excited the suspicious of those in the room. After examination, an expert pronounced the mysterious powder to be dynamite. The satchel con-tained about forty pounds of the dangerous compound; also a quantity of mercurial caps for firing it. The discovery caused considerable excitement in Olean. The detective found in the bag a photograph of as prominent Bradford man, and following the elew the ownership of the incanding bag was finally traced to flunt, who had just returned from Florida. He was in Friendship, this State and was induced to go to Olean by a telegram. In the meantime a warrant had been produced for his arrest, and when he stepped off the cars he was taken into custody. He finally consessed that the satchet belonged to him and explained the matter in this way:

that the satchet belonged to him and explained the matter in this way:

He and John Blackmar of Bolivar, on starting for Florida, took with their beggare a cannutity of dynamite. They believed it could be used in clearing the stumps from the land which they had purchased, but on their arrival found that it could not be employed to advantage. Then Hunt rechecked the dangerous stuff to Bradford, and subsequently to Olean. He professed to be knortant of the fact that a severe peasity attaches to an offence of this kind. In order to make sure of the nature of the compound, one of the extrigious was exploded under a stump. The result was sufficient to demonstrate the damage that might have been easied had the dynamite exploded in transit. There were caps enough in the bag to have caused a small earthquaka
